Academic Advising

The University of Nevada, Las Vegas supports 11 academic advising centers. Each of the academic advising centers is housed in a college so that students who enroll in particular majors are able to meet with academic advisors who are knowledgeable about every major in the college. There are four methods of obtaining academic advising: 1) face-to-face appointments, 2) telephone appointments, 3) online academic advising, and 4) group academic advising. Please contact the academic advising center of your major to determine which of the four methods are available in your advising center.

By far, the preferred method of academic advising is experiencing face-to-face appointments. Seventy-seven percent of UNLV students desire to meet in person with an advising professional to discuss degree plans, course rotations, and timely graduation. At this point, the average wait time to meet with an academic advisor during the high traffic seasons is two weeks.

Because academic advisors are interested in the success of every student at UNLV, it is important to schedule an appointment with an academic advisor in the intended major as soon as possible. Regardless of your major, there is an academic advising center housed in each college at UNLV.

Specifically, academic advising offers a supportive environment for accomplishing the following:

- Reviewing four & five year graduation plans
- Accessing degree audit records
- Connecting with faculty in your department
- Customizing a course schedule based on a balance in your academic and personal life
- Connecting with an advocate for your success
- Providing registration advice
- Learning about referrals to appropriate services and opportunities for your involvement
- Finding answers to your questions about your major(s) and minor(s)
- Seeking information that will keep you connected with the campus community
- Understanding policies regarding your admission status
- Assisting with access to your mid-semester grades so academic intervention may be possible
- Collaborating with your academic advisor to establish a graduation goal
- Enhancing your career development knowledge and skills by completing the “Keys to Your Rebel Success” modules

The primary goal of academic advising is to meet with students on a one-on-one basis to discuss personal and professional goals and to develop a plan for meeting them. For your convenience, there are several ways to accomplish academic advising prior to arrival on campus. More information about contacting the appropriate academic advising center can be located at: http://www.unlv.edu/advising.
Note: Each college offers tailored advising for its students. Hours and services are subject to change. Please call ahead for an appointment or to confirm drop-in hours.

In Nevada, I have had the good fortune to find employment teaching English reading and writing to adult students, high school drop outs, and new immigrants wrestling with the language. After I finish my bachelor’s in English, I plan on continuing that work promoting literacy for my next 30+ years in the workforce. The ability to read means the ability to learn, and that learning will serve them through the rest of their lives, just as my love of learning will continue to serve me.

“Founded in 1974, the University United Methodist Child Development Center has grown within the community and congregation to be one of the most well-respected and progressive early childhood programs in Las Vegas. As a mission of the church, this program currently serves approximately 60 families. Children range from infants to kindergartners, and represent a wide variety of ethnic, racial, linguistic, and religious backgrounds. Academic Misconduct

Statement of Purpose
UNLV is first and foremost an academic community, with its fundamental purpose the pursuit of learning and student development. UNLV believes that any instance of academic misconduct hurts the entire community, and that the values of honesty, trust, respect, fairness, responsibility and professionalism are paramount. Therefore, to uphold and support standards of personal honesty and integrity for all members of the campus community consistent with the goals of a community of scholars and students seeking knowledge, it will be the policy of UNLV to enforce these standards through fair and objective procedures governing instances of alleged student academic misconduct.

Expectations
Academic integrity is a legitimate concern for every member of the campus community; all share in upholding the fundamental values of honesty, trust, respect, fairness, responsibility and professionalism. By choosing to join the UNLV community, students accept the expectations of the Academic Misconduct Policy and are encouraged when faced with choices to always take the ethical path. Students enrolling in UNLV assume the obligation to conduct themselves in a manner compatible with UNLV’s function as an educational institution.

Honesty
Honesty is the foundation of teaching, learning, research and service; and the prerequisite for full realization of trust, fairness, respect and responsibility. Students and faculty alike must be honest with themselves and others.

Trust
The UNLV community fosters a climate of mutual trust, encourages the free exchange of ideas, and enables all to reach their highest potential. Only with trust can the public at large believe in the social value and meaning of an institution’s scholarship and degrees.

Fairness
We strive to establish clear standards, practices, and procedures and expect fairness in the interactions of students, faculty and administrators. Important components of fairness are predictability, clear expectations and a consistent and just response to dishonesty.
Respect
As an academic community of integrity, we recognize the participatory nature of the learning process and honor and respect a wide range of opinions and ideas. Students and faculty must respect themselves and each other as individuals. All must show respect for the work of others by acknowledging their intellectual debts.

Responsibility
Every member of an academic community – each student, faculty member and administrator – is responsible for upholding the integrity of scholarship and research. Individuals must take responsibility for their own honesty and must discourage and seek to prevent misconduct by others.

Professionalism
Because students are aspiring professionals, our community expects them to exercise professional conduct during their career as students and uphold the core value of academic integrity.

RETURNING STUDENTS

How to Return
The Returning Student process and form have been phased out. Students who are classified as “returning students” will be required to complete the undergraduate application for admission (and pay the fee), submit any updated transcripts or transcripts from new schools, and go through the admission process. These students will be held to the same admission standards as all other new students for entrance into the university. These students will also be held to current admissions policies (that may be different from when they originally attended UNLV).

This page, unlv.edu/registrar/returning-students, will outline the process and steps for these students to re-enter the institution.

Who is a Returning Student?
In order to be a “Returning Student”, a student must meet all of the following criteria:

1. The student must have earned grades for at least one semester at UNLV in a class or classes that were not continuing education units, and
2. Must not have registered for at least one credit at UNLV for two consecutive semesters (Note: This includes the fall and spring semesters only. Summer term is not applicable), and
3. Must not have been suspended from UNLV.

Students who were previously admitted and did not attend, or students whose admission has been cancelled, are not considered returning students.

What is the process for suspended students to return?
Students who have been suspended are not considered returning students. As such, they are not required to complete an application for admission. Suspended students should visit http://facultysenate.unlv.edu/students and select the “Early Reinstatement” link found on the right-hand side of the page.

If you have any questions, please contact the Faculty Senate Office at (702) 895-3689.

Life has a way of presenting unexpected challenges which can either steer one off course or make their resolve stronger. For me, a small break from college became a very big break. It was a difficult road to return, but my determination is stronger than ever.

Jennifer Boling
Do students who have been gone for only one semester need to do anything to return?
If a student’s career is still “active” in MyUNLV, then the student does not need to take any steps to return to UNLV. This information can be found on the “Academics” tab in the Student Center. (Note: This is not a blanket statement for all students but should apply to most.)

Does a Returning Student need to submit new transcripts?
Returning Students will not be required to submit new documents provided that the documents associated with the original application have not changed. If a student has taken new courses at a school since leaving UNLV or has attended a new school (or schools) since leaving, then those transcripts will need to be submitted. Students who have international documents that have not been evaluated by a NACES member organization (www.naces.org) will need to provide such an evaluation and/or translation before the new application can be processed.

The National Center for Education Statistics reports that of the 17.6 million people enrolled in college in the fall of 2011, only fifteen percent were attending a four year college and living on campus. Thirty-seven percent were enrolled part time, and thirty-two percent worked full time. More than a third were over 25, and a quarter were over 30.

By 2019, the percentage of those over 25 is expected to increase by more than twenty percent.

Within a year of joining the Army and completing Basic Training, I was deployed to Iraq as a geospatial analyst... I was still in Iraq when I received my acceptance letter to the University of Nevada, Las Vegas. Today, I am a full-time Civil Engineering student. I’m working harder than ever to do well in my courses because I’ve struggled so much to become a university student. As such, I don’t just want to graduate, I want to graduate with honors, join clubs, participate in college life, and make contacts that I’ll have for life—and that’s what I’m doing.

Additional Placement Options

English Language Center: Non-native speakers who place into ENG 101E based on test scores should consider ENG 113E, which is equivalent to ENG 101E, but provides additional support for English language learners. Please contact the English Language Center for more information. (702) 895-4311.

Placement Portfolios: Students who feel that standardized test scores do not accurately reflect their writing ability may demonstrate their preparation for ENG 101 by submitting a portfolio which contains:

- One cover letter that identifies the class in which each portfolio essay was originally written, the assignment that was given, and the skills that each essay demonstrates.

- Two essays of at least 500 words each that are clearly focused around the central idea, developed with specific supporting details, organized to provide a logical flow of ideas, and edited to observe the conventions of standard written English.

- A timed essay that responds to one of two short contemporary articles provided the day of the test.

Go to http://www.unlv.edu/english/composition or call the Composition Office (702) 895-3165 for more information.

First Day Diagnostics: Students will complete a diagnostic essay the first day of class in both ENG 101 and ENG 101E. Students whose writing demonstrates weaknesses in basic language skills will be advised to switch to a class offered by the English Language Center or sign up for workshops and tutoring offered by the Writing Center.

Testing for Non-native Speakers: The English Language Center provides testing for non-native speakers to determine their placement into ENG 113 or 113E, equivalent courses to ENG 101 and 101E. Call (702) 895-4311 for more information.

Course Descriptions

ENG 101 Composition I
English 101 is a writing intensive course designed to improve critical thinking, reading, and writing skills. Students develop strategies for turning their experience, observations, and analyses into evidence suitable for writing in a variety of academic disciplines. 3 credits. Letter grades. Credits apply towards fulfillment of UNLV English Composition requirement.

ENG 101E/101F Composition I Extended
ENG 101E/101F is a two-semester ENG 101 sequence designed for students who would benefit from more practice and instruction than is available in one-semester course. Students use the ENG 101 text to complete the first half of the ENG 101 curriculum during ENG 101E and the second half during ENG 101F. ENG 101E: 3 elective credits S/U grading. ENG 101F: 3 credits. Letter grades. Completion of ENG 101E/101F sequence fulfills UNLV requirement for ENG 101.

ENG 102 Composition II
ENG 102 builds upon the critical thinking, reading, and writing capabilities that students developed in ENG 101. Students learn the processes necessary for collecting and incorporating research material in writing. They learn how to evaluate, cite, and document primary and secondary research sources, and how to develop arguments and support them with sound evidence. 3 credits. Letter grades. Credits apply towards fulfillment of UNLV English Composition requirement.

Composition for Non-Native Speakers
The English Language Center provides equivalent composition courses for non-native speakers. Students who do not speak English as a first language should call (702) 895-4311 for more information.
What is the MTELP?
The Michigan Test of English Language Proficiency (MTELP) is a general proficiency test for adult non-native speakers of English who will need to use English for academic purposes. The MTELP, administered at the University of Nevada, Las Vegas (UNLV) is an institutional test. This means that the test is accepted by the institution at which it is offered but may not be accepted at other universities and colleges. If you are interested in taking the MTELP at UNLV but want to use it at another university, you have to make sure that the university of your choice will accept the UNLV MTELP. If you do plan to attend UNLV, the MTELP may be used for admission instead of the TOEFL test.

The MTELP is designed to measure your English proficiency in the six basic language skill areas: writing, grammar, vocabulary, reading, listening, and speaking. The entire test lasts approximately 3 to 3 ½ hours (including check-in at the examination site). Testing is divided into the following areas, which are briefly explained below:

- Part 1: Listening comprehension
- Part 2: Grammar, vocabulary, and reading comprehension
- Part 3: Written composition
- Part 4: Oral interview/speaking

How can you register for the MTELP?
To register for the MTELP you first have to complete a test application form. You may either pick up an application form at our office, request one via email, or download one from our website http://elc.unlv.edu. Once you have completed the application form, you must pay for the test by following the instruction below. Then you may either scan and email both the application form and receipt to us, or come to our office to register for an available test date.

How can you prepare for the MTELP?
Many English language learning materials are available at bookstores and libraries. We recommend How to Prepare for the Michigan Test Battery, by Pamela J. Sharpe (Barron’s Educational Series, Inc., 1982) available at the UNLV Bookstore or online at Amazon.com.

What to bring on the day of the test?
Bring your two government issued photo IDs, preferably a driver’s license and passport. If you do not have a driver’s license, you may also use a State ID, Green Card, or an ID from your country. No large bags or backpacks are allowed in the testing room. No cell phone or translation device is allowed during the test.

MTELP Scores
The MTELP scores are reported within two to three days following the examination and are valid for two years.
MTELP Content and Format

Part 1: Listening comprehension
This is a multiple-choice, audio test containing 45 questions. It lasts about 20 minutes. You will be given a test booklet and an answer sheet. You will listen to the problem, read the answer choices in the test booklet, and mark your answers on the separate scantron sheet. For each problem in this part of the test, there are three answer choices. You must choose the ONE BEST answer. If you are unsure, you should make a reasonable guess. There are two kinds of problems in this part of the test: questions and statements.

Question example:
You hear: When is she going for vacation?
You read:
a.) last week
b.) to England
c.) tomorrow
The correct answer is ‘c’, tomorrow.

Statement example:
You hear: That movie was pretty bad.
You read:
a.) It was good
b.) It wasn’t good.
c.) It wasn’t beautiful.
The correct answer is ‘b’, it wasn’t good.

Part 2: Grammar/Vocabulary/Reading Comprehension
This part of the test is multiple choice and contains 100 questions: 40 grammar, 40 vocabulary, and 20 reading. The total time limit is 75 minutes, with each question having four answer choices. You must choose the one best answer that applies.

Grammar example:
“Do you want another cup of coffee?”
“It depends on how much time _____ is before we have to leave.”
a.) it b.) there c.) which d.) what
The correct answer is ‘b’, there.

Vocabulary example:
Jim tried to conceal the package.
a.) hide
b.) remember c.) tie up d.) wrap
The correct choice is ‘a’, hide.

OR:
The floor was dirty, so she decided to _____ it.
a.) scrub
b.) screw c.) scurry
d.) inscribe
The correct choice is ‘a’, scrub.

Reading example:
While I was getting ready to go to town one morning last week, my wife handed me a little piece of red cloth and asked if I would have time during the day to buy her two yards of cloth like that. I told her I would be glad to do it. Putting the piece of cloth into my pocket, I took the train to town.
Question: The person telling the story is.... a.) a married lady
b.) an unmarried lady
c.) a married man
d.) an unmarried man
The correct answer is ‘c’, a married man.

Part 3: Composition
You will be given 30 minutes to write on a random topic. Write only on the topic given to you. In the topic, you might be asked to explain, describe or argue for a specific position. Be sure to include a thesis statement followed by specific examples.

Your compositions will be graded on: 1) how clearly you express yourself in English; 2) your grammar; and 3) your vocabulary usage. This means that your composition should be organized, your arguments should be fully developed, and you should show a range of grammatical structures using broad vocabulary.

Part 4: Oral Interview
You will have a 10 minute conversation with the examiner who will rate your overall communicative language proficiency. The examiner will consider your fluency, grammar, vocabulary and your comprehension. The examiner will ask you questions about your background, your future plans, and your opinions on certain issues. You should try to give more than simple “yes” or “no” answers to the examiner’s questions. If you do not understand a question, do not be afraid to ask the examiner to repeat or rephrase it.
Mathematics Placement Using the ALEKS Online Assessment

UNLV offers a computer-based online Mathematics Placement Assessment through ALEKS to measure a student’s prerequisite knowledge as a means of improving a student’s course placement. ALEKS is a powerful artificial-intelligence based assessment tool that focuses on the strengths and weaknesses of a student’s mathematical knowledge, reports its findings to the student, and then provides the student with access to instructional learning modules for bringing this knowledge up to an appropriate level for course placement.

- Students whose current placement information indicates that they will be enrolled in MATH 95, 96, 120, 124, or 126 are encouraged to consider taking the ALEKS Placement Assessment if they wish to seek a higher mathematics course placement.
- The option of improving your mathematics course placement is available to ALL students. While the ALEKS Placement Assessment can be taken at any time, incoming first-year students should consider completing the ALEKS Placement Assessment following admittance – preferably between December and April for the fall semester or between June and November for spring semester.

Your ALEKS score is automatically added to your UNLV student profile, which is then accessible by your advisor to assist you in enrollment decisions. If you do not reach the score required for the course you seek, you have two choices:

Choice 1. You may self-remediate in an attempt to improve your score in the Learning Module by clicking on the learning module link after re-accessing the placement assessment. You may then retake (up to four times) the ALEKS Placement Assessment in an attempt to improve your score.

Choice 2. You may choose to enroll in the mathematics course that requires, as a minimum, the score you achieved on the ALEKS Mathematics Placement Assessment.

The cost of the ALEKS Mathematics Placement Assessment as an “Assessment + Learning” module is $25 and is accessed through MyUNLV. The Learning Module is not a single assessment. It provides a learning environment for self-remediation to work towards obtaining the required minimum ALEKS score for the course placement that you are seeking. ALEKS is designed to assist you if you feel that your skills are weak and you would like to review content knowledge in an effective online learning environment, or if you have taken the initial placement assessment and did not reach the minimum ALEKS score for your desired course and want a learning module to assist in reaching the required minimum score.

For further information on the ALEKS Mathematics Placement Assessment, please see the FAQs at https://www.unlv.edu/sites/default/files/page_files/24/ALEKS%20FAQs.pdf or contact the Mathematics Learning Center at the mlc@unlv.edu

About the Department of Mathematical Sciences Placement Test
The UNLV DMS offers placement testing designed to provide information about the academic skills of students entering mathematics courses at UNLV. The primary function of the placement test is to assist with determining if a student is prepared for a college-level mathematics course, or if the student would benefit from a developmental course. In particular, the test is designed to assess a student’s readiness for Math 120, Math 124 and Math 126, or higher placement assessments. The DMS holds the right to modify and realign test standards at any point in time.

Eligibility for Taking the Test
Students who have not met prior math prerequisites must take the DMS placement test. These prerequisites may include any of the following:

1. Sufficiently high ACT/SAT scores taken within the past 2 years
2. Sufficiently high math AP scores (AB or BC test)
3. Previous completion of a NSHE mathematics course for which a student has been appropriately placed (earning a C or better)
4. Appropriate transfer course from another accredited college or university (earning a C or better).

The following students may be eligible to take the Placement test:

1. Students who have completed the SAT/ACT, regardless of when taken
2. Students who have completed a college-level mathematics course at an accredited college or university (including NSHE), independent of grade earned, or whether it has been evaluated for transfer
3. Students who have previously taken the DMS placement test

The following students are not eligible to take the Placement test:
Students who have taken the DMS placement test within the last 90 days. It is the student’s responsibility to determine eligibility or seek clarification. While it may be possible for an ineligible student to sign up, pay for and take the placement exam, the fee will not be refunded, and the exam score will be inadmissible and will not be uploaded into the system.
The Structure of the Test
The placement test is offered exclusively through the UNLV DMS. The DMS does not accept any other version of placement testing offered on or off the UNLV campus. The test is formatted as multiple choice responses. During test day, no calculators, phones, or electronic devices of any kind will be allowed in the testing facility. If needed, students will be provided with scrap paper.

Preparing for the Test
The DMS will not provide tutoring for the placement test. In addition, to maintain the integrity of the process, the DMS will not provide students with sample tests, questions or guidance on the objectives covered on the test.

Signing up for the Test
The placement test is offered throughout the year on an appointment basis. Visit the DMS website for more information. Appointments are made through the DMS. The cost of taking the placement test is $11.00. Seats are limited, so students are encouraged to sign up early. To prepare to take the test, students must:

• Go online, or contact the DMS for the dates and times that the test is administered
• Download or pick up the Application for Math Placement Examination Form from the DMS office and fill it out in entirety
• Present the form to the cashier’s office in SSC (Student Services Complex), Building A, Room 131 and pay the fee of $11.00 per exam
• Take the form and receipt of payment to the DMS. The front office staff will fill in the date and time of your exam

The Day of Your Test
On test day, students must show up with a writing utensil, government issued photo identification and/or UNLV RebelCard. Backpacks, cell phones, cameras or calculators are not allowed in the testing facility. It is up to the student to secure these items; the DMS will not provide storage of property outside the testing facility. Scrap paper will be provided if needed. After being checked in, students will complete the test within the time permitted. All codes of academic integrity will be honored, and any breach of academic integrity will be reported to the Office of Student Conduct.

Using Test Results for Placement
After the test is completed, the DMS will input the scores into the system. Once the scores are uploaded, the DMS will contact students to inform them of the classes for which they are eligible to register. Students will then be able to enroll into these classes. If there are any questions or problems with enrollment, contact the DMS for assistance.
